Shall we attempted between the man of our choice? Shall we attempted to grievances, which the latter has inflicted upon Spanish subjects. The French Government has sent additional ships of war to the West India station, with the view of being prepared to support the measures which Spain may adopt; and England, it is given out, will avail herself of the European intelligence were when the Legislature of North Carolina.

Sin Against the Holy Guest.

Rev. THEODORE PARKER delivered a discours recently from the text, "Do thyself no harm." The discourse animadverted severely upon those systems of theology which consider the condition of the body as a matter of little moment, and inculcated the duty as a moral obligation, of maintaining the physical functions of the human frame in a sound and healthy state.

ILLINOIS BANKS.—The statement of the condition of forty-eight Illinois banks on the lat of October last, show that at that time they had stocks deposited with the Auditor to the smount of $6,428,356 14, and a circulation of $5,607,948. All the banks of Chicago have withdrawn their circulation entirely, except the Marine, and that had on the first of October a circulation of only a few of New York soon after the adjournment and New York soon after the adjournment circulation entirely, except the Marine, and that had on the first of October a circulation of only 209,500, for which there were stocks deposited with the Auditor to the amount of 239,305. The deduction from the virtual winding up of all our citybanks is that a bank of issue cannot be made profitable in Chicago. The country banks must furnish the currency, and the city banks must be made profitable. Times.

Gevernor Willard's Speech.

In another place will be found the speech of Governor Willard at the Democratic meeting held in this city on the evening of the 24th ult. It presents some suggestions upon the slavery question in a new aspect, which will excite general attention. All the speeches at that meeting were upon the individual responsibility order, and expressed the peculiar notions of the seasons upon the practical issues of the day. We commend this effort of Governor Willard, who always speaks ably, logically and eloquently, to would have been exhibited at the late election.

Still, although this difference of opinion extends as eminently worthy of perusal. His views are bold, outspoken and to the point, and upon the negro issue will challenge investigation and discussion.

The European Alliance Against

A paragraph appears in the European intelligence, says the New York Sun, that merits the general attention of the people of this country.

Still, although this difference of opinion extends the permocracy of the State, would be better and safer, as each will act as a check upon the other. A change in the State who doubted the policy of the President, stood firmly by the Democratic organization. They remembered with pride the terrible battle they had fought to place Mr. Buchanan at the head of the Government. They regarded him as the leader of their party in opposition to Republicanism. Others there were who used their pretended hostility to the Lecompton policy of the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in justifying them in the President as a pretext in principle and the State, would be better and safer, as each will the State, would be better and safers, which the State, would be better and safers as a check upon the State, would be better and safers, as each will in act as a

The Baltimore Republican relates that a full omnibus of Know Nothings drew up at the door of Mayor Swann, the American mayor of that city, on the evening of his re-election, when the following collequy occurred:

"Trellows, how many are there in this bus?"
"Twenty," shouted the crowd. "How many is twenty times twenty?" continued the speaker, "Four hundred," said volces in the crowd. "Then," said the speaker, "this omnibus gave 400 votes for Mr. Swann." Another wild hurrah rent the air, accompanied by the discharge of pistos, &c. This fact is from an age-witness, and it shows the manufactured for Mr. Swann.

Resolved, That it is inexpedient at this session of the General Assembly to Spact a law requiring the Auditors of the several counties of this State, to put upon the tax duplicate a State tax for collection during the present year.

Mr. GOODING. The object of this resolution is this: that if it is adopted it will declare against the collection of taxes now for State purposes; but of course it will come in order, and have to be collected in subsequent years. Now The question then be the people are much oppressed, money is scarce, and it is with great difficulty the people can pay the heavy taxes they are already paying. I simply want a vote of the Senate upon it.

Mr. MURRAY. I regard this as a very important proposition, and it ought to be decided by full Senate. In my county the tax duplicate for this year has been made out, and the collection of a State tax for this year, would cause the additional expense of revising the duplicates, and we would have to throw away the duplicates we have prepared, and make new ones, which would be attended with a great deal of inconvenience. I understand that money can be borrowed at three or four or five per cent. with which to pay the January and perhaps the July interest upon our State bonds, and a little additional loan will keep the wheels of government in motion. It is good economy to borrow what money may be negood economy to borrow what money may be not considered as the exigencies of the State for the present—this is my view, and I think I experiment of the people of my may reject the extension was reject to the property of the present of the people of my may reject the extension was reject to the property of the propert press the universal sentiment of the people of my district. For these reasons, I am in favor of adopting the resolution of the Senator from Hancock.

Mr. SLACK. I am opposed to the adoption of this resolution. We are convened for the tion: of this resolution. We are convened for the purpose of assessing a revenue. A column is already prepared in all the tax duplicates for the purpose of inserting a State tax—it can be done purpose of inserting a State tax—it can be done in a short time, and at a small expense; and the people expect this Legislature to assess a tax. I don't want it to be neglected until another year the senate shortly. I move that the resolution layers and then treble it.

Mr. TARKINGTON. I do think that we ought to lay a tax for 1858. It is as the Senator from Huntington says, there are blank columns in the tax duplicate for the purpose of inserting a State t x. If the officers can collect a tax for county purposes, of course they can for State purposes. The average to for county purposes a eighty-three cents on the hundred dollars, while the State tax is only twenty two cents—twenty cents to pay the expenses of the Government, and two cents for the Sinking Fund. There may be one difficulty with those individuals who have already paid their taxes for the year, there may be some difficulty in collecting the State tax that may be imposed by this Legislature, from them. may be imposed by this Legislature, from them.

It may cause some grumbling among this portion, but I apprehend there are not many of them.

Mr. STUDABAKER. Senators have well said this is an important question. I consider it a very important one, and one upon which we

Mr. GOODING made some further remarks explanatory of his resolution.

Mr. WILLIAMS was opposed to postponing the subject. The people expect to pay a State tax for this year. The SPEAKER directed the consideration the special order, viz: the consideration of Mr. Edward's resolution submitted yesterday: STATE LOAN.

The resolution was read through again by the Clerk, and it is as follows: Clerk, and it is as follows:

Resolved, That the Committee on Ways and Means are hereby instructed, that in the opinion of this House, the levying of a tax the added to the tax duplicate on the assessment and valuation of real property for taxation for State purposes, would be inexpedient, as many persons have now paid and others will pay the taxe's anow charged, before the act making such additions can go into effect; that it will lea! to confusion, cause delinquencies because of the inability of tax-payer to meet any additional assessment until they can have the advantage of the products of another year; that the value of real property has materians. individual benefit. If it was a thing to benefit our constituents, it would be proper to make the subscription proposed. I think we ought to subscribe as individuals. I am willing to take two copies, or as many for my share as will justify the publication.

The motion to reconsider was agreed to on a division—affirmative 51, negative not counted—and the question recurred on the adoption of the resolution.

The yeas and nays being again demanded, ordered and taken thereon, resulted—veas 51, nays another year: that the value of real property has materially changed, and to cause the rate of assersment and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all real and personal property should be provided for and real and personal property should be provided for and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all real and personal property should be provided for and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all real value of real property has materially changed, and to cause the rate of assersment and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all real value of real property has materially changed, and to cause the rate of assersment and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all real value of real property has materially changed, and to cause the rate of assersment and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all real value of real property hould be paid to the provided for and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all value and to all value of real property should be provided for and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all value and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all value and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all value and taxation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraisement of all value of assertion, a reappraise and personal property should be paid to the provided for and exation to be equal and uniforn, a reappraise and personal property should be paid to the provided for Mr. HARNEY wanted the action of the House on the resolution, for a guide of the Committee on Ways and Means, although he himself mittee on Ways and Means, although he himself should not vote for it. He proceeded to reason against an increase of the public debt, without providing means to pay it. Such a course of policy could not fail to injuriously affect our State credit. We had already exhausted $559,000 of these trust funds! and for the present year and the next year it would require a like sum, and there was danger of the exhaustion of these funds, which was too sacred almost to disturb at all for the ordinary expenses of the Government. It was singular that the State Bank should have been more careful of the Sinking Fund than the State itself. This proposition, if adopted, would lead to a new State indebtedness of more than two millions of dollars. He showed from the 12th page of the report of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, that provision for the repayment of these funds thus used, was expected to be made, and if it were not done, we would go into market with a bad grace, with a domestic debt which we have not are received for debt which we have not yet provided for.

Mr. AUSTIN moved to postpone the consideration of the subject till Thursday 2 o'clock Mr. MURRAY proposed to amend the motion by substituting a reference to the Committee on Ways and Means, with instructions to report whether there are any funds belenging to the State which can be made available for the State expenses of 1857-8, and the interest on the State

The first question being on the postponement it was agreed to. ORDER OF BUSINESS. The SPEAKER announced the consideration of the unfinished business of the morning, viz: the resolution of Mr. Murray—the question be-ing on Mr. Colgrove's amendment to strike out all after the word "order."

Mr. SCOTT moved to lay the resolution and Messrs. DAVIS and SCOTT demanded the year and nays, and they were ordered and taken, re-sulting—yeas 42, nays 49, so the House refused to lay on the table, and the question recurred on the amendment.

Mr. HUNTER spoke to the whole argument involved in this subject—stating particularly important subjects of legislation, and the necessity of attending to them promptly; and the necessity of carrying the present organization into the regular session in order to economise time and libbon in the standing committees. When he had regular session in order to econo-labor in the standing committees.

Mr. MURRAY considered the amendment designed to destroy the resolutior. He was opposed to the idea of sitting forty days, and also to confining the business of the session to the subjects recomme ded by the Governor. He would put all into the hopper, and when they were ground out, he would shut down the gate and go home.

Mr. COLGROVE. The election of these officers was an important duty owing to our constituents, and he was in favor of making these Mr. AUSTIN explained, that he must vote in favor of postponement to quiet this subject, which had occupied too much time.

Mr. RYNEARSON explained, that in view of the necessity of attending to pressing business indicated, he could not vote to postpone. He also

Mr. DAVIDSON also spoke briefly, regard the whole proceeding on this subject and lous and farcical. He desired its effectual of the indefinite methodisment and burial so

So the subject was postponed. UNITED STATES SENATORS Mr. TURPIE now again submitted the resolution (identical with Mr. Parrett's, ruled out last Saturday,) acquiescing in the decision of the United States Senate on this subject, and declaring it inexpedient to go into any election of Senators at this session.

The yeas and nays being demanded, ordered and taken on its adoption, resulted—yeas 40, nays 50—as follows:
